

JPL Stories

*Wednesday,
January 21,
2009*

4:30 - 5:30 PM

*JPL Library,
Customer Service Area, west end of
Building 111
Room 104*

Chicken Little was right! The Sky is Falling

Presented by Dr. Donald K. Yeomans
Manager, NASA Near-Earth Object Program Office

This talk will be a very informal, personalized tour of the near-Earth objects - comets and asteroids that can threaten the Earth. Come hear about a topic that once brought giggles from the scientific community but is now receiving the serious attention it deserves.

Everyone is welcome.

